COMPANY DESCRIPTION

Hunter Gatherer brings bohemian global chic to Mid City. Our collection consists of unique, one of a kind eclectic objects. We have textiles and clothing representing countries such as the Middle East, Asia, Central, South America, North and West Africa ~ with 90% being vintage, meaning at least 30 to 100 years old. We have art and sculpture that reflects the deeper unconscious aspects of all our shared emotions and experiences, which are, in my opinion, anthropological in nature. We have clothing from all points of the globe that are traditional, reflecting foreign designs and patterns; we also have jewelry, which nods to the unusual, if not downright distinctive. It's all here the heart of Los Angeles.
